

AVENI DETECT

Aveni Docs

Eliminate slow, manual document reviews

Let AI automate document check accurately, saving you valuable time and resources

Manual document review is time-consuming, draining your resources and hindering deeper client connections. Aveni Docs, powered by AI, offers a smarter solution. Automate the entire process, ensuring accuracy and compliance while freeing you to focus on what truly matters: building strong client relationships and delivering exceptional financial advice.

Prioritise efficiently

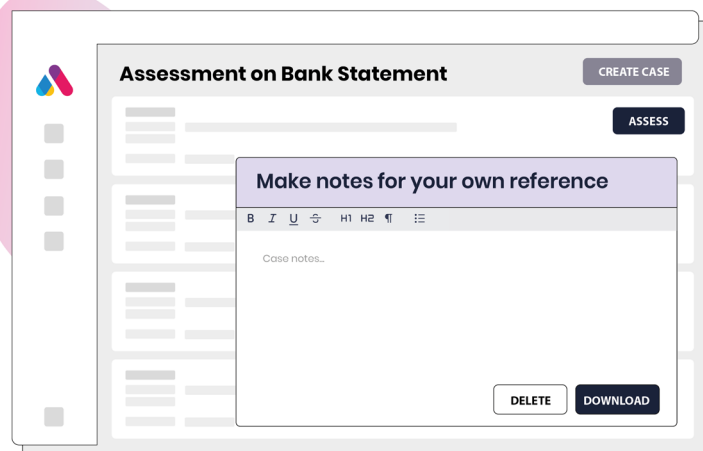

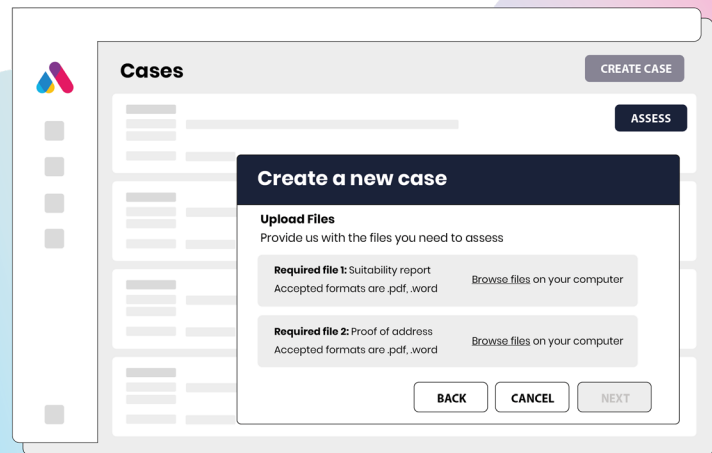

Identify high-risk cases instantly for faster remediation.

Multi-document view

Compare documents side-by-side for seamless data verification.

Auto QA

Automate QA assessment and data extraction, minimising human error.

Secure note-taking

Add feedback directly within the platform, keeping everything secure, organised and accessible.

Traceable

Easily track information and justify decisions with clear evidence trails.

Adviser feedback loop

Streamline communication with advisers for faster turnaround times.

Our approach is unique. Our scientists are global leaders. Our results speak for themselves.

AI designed for UK financial services

Unlike many generic generative AI solutions available in back office software, Aveni's platform has been designed specifically for the financial services industry, trained on sector-specific data and purpose-built to accelerate the workflows of FS businesses.

World leaders in the field

Our team of scientists and engineers are regarded as world-leading NLP experts and are consistently ranked in the top 100 NLP Engineers globally. Our team has a wealth of experience in building secure, data driven solutions at scale bringing experience from leading firms such as McLaren, IBM and BAE Systems.

NLP expertise + extensive FS-industry experience

Aveni's management team has decades of experience working in Senior Management positions across the financial services, including Asset and Wealth Management, Financial Advice & Platforms. We understand the challenges inherent in these businesses and target our solutions to solve them.

Human+ approach

We understand the value of human relationships in the Wealth and Advice world, and our objective is to protect that. The real power of utilising AI is enabling people to perform better, for their clients and their employer. That means automating low value tasks and augmenting high value activity.

Security as a priority

Data security is at the heart of our business operation. We're trusted with the data of some of the largest firms in the UK. Our ISO27001 certification and completion of the RiskLedger Information Security questionnaire further reinforces our dedication to upholding uncompromising data security practices.

Trusted

We're trusted by leading organisations across the financial services industry, helping them realise significant efficiencies through our core products Aveni Detect and Aveni Assist. Taken off the shelf or configured for specific business requirements, our primary objective always is to exceed our clients expectations.

Get in touch to learn how Aveni can automate your document check.

Aveni is an award-winning FinTech company spearheading the financial services industry into a new era of hyper-efficiency. Aveni's platform seamlessly merges advanced AI with human expertise resulting in significant efficiency gains across a business' operating model. From comprehensive client admin support and CRM population to automatic quality assurance and performance assessment, our AI assistant has been purpose-built to accelerate FS workflows.

hello@aveni.ai
aveni.ai